How to Apply to College: The Basics

Now is the time to begin the college search process.

- Step 1. Explore colleges and universities based on size, location, programs of interest, financial information, sport programs, public vs. private and any other criteria that make sense for you. Visit the campus and/or attend college rep visits in the fall.
- Step 2. Check application deadlines in September and October using Naviance, or head directly to a school's website for important dates and deadlines.
Be sure to follow posted deadlines for requesting letters, forms and transcripts.
- Step 3. Gather your applications. Review deadlines and prioritize your applications. Colleges prefer online applications and often reduce or waive online application fees. Use the Common Application whenever possible. It will save you and your counselor time!
- Step 4. Change your primary email to your student Jesuit email account (studentj17@student.jhs.net) to keep your college communications organized. Be sure to check this account and your snail mail on a regular basis.

Things to do in the Fall

September:

- Retake the ACT, if necessary.

October:

- Retake SATs and/or ACT, if necessary.
- Begin writing out the UC personal insight questions if you have not already done so. Have your parents, counselor, and English teacher edit it.
- Apply to CSU's. The CSU application filing period is Oct.1—Nov. 30. Some campuses accept applications after Nov. 30. See CSUMentor.edu.
- October-February is generally the application period for private colleges. All are different, so check directly with college websites or Naviance.
- Look into scholarship deadlines. Some are due as early as November.

November:

- UC application filing period begins November 1st. You can start your application as early as October 1st, but cannot submit it until November 1st. See universityofcalifornia.edu.
- Finish all CSU applications by November 30th.
- Retake the SAT/ACT, if necessary.

Check your email & mail regularly.

Applying Early?

EARLY ACTION

- Read all information carefully.
- Highly qualified candidates who apply early may receive offers of admission by mid-Dec.
- Early Action is not binding.

SINGLE CHOICE EARLY ACTION

- You can apply to one university under Single Choice Early Action.
- Your choice is not binding.
- You can choose to attend another institution.

EARLY DECISION

- Read all information carefully, these are contracts.
- You can apply to only one school under Early Decision.
- Early Decision is binding. If accepted you must withdraw all other college applications.

Private Colleges and Universities

If available, use the Common Application to apply online to private schools. If the Common App is not an option, use the university's online application. Fill out your application and download all the forms for teacher and counselor recommendations. Check to see if any supplemental forms are required in addition to the Common App. All private schools require a Secondary School Report from your counselor. Counselors will be sending the forms electronically through Naviance and CommonApp whenever possible.

Once you provide your counselor with the proper forms, College Document Request (see page 18) he or she will send your official transcript, school report, school profile, and letter of recommendation to each private institution you request. Forms should be given to counselors as early in the year as possible and no later than the deadlines posted on the school calendar.

Additional Information

Apply to a range of colleges:

- Reach — a long-shot
- Realistic — your probability of admission is slightly better than even
- Safety — your probability of admission is highly likely, but never guaranteed

Check your email regularly and feel free to respond to any college information requests as part of the application process. When you respond, you are placed on their mailing lists and they will keep you apprised of important information. If you receive any additional forms or questionnaires from a college, follow all directions and meet all deadlines. Sometimes colleges ask to verify information you have included in your application. They may also ask you for additional financial information.

It's good to know...

- The Counseling Department recommends that you wait until May of your Junior year to take the SAT with essay and June to take the SAT Subject Tests and ACT. This allows you to have a full year of curriculum before testing.
- Most colleges require you take either the SAT or the ACT. The best place to find out about a college's testing requirements is on their website.
- The SAT and ACT allow students to choose which scores will be sent to colleges.
- CSU's & many private colleges take your best verbal & math scores from multiple test dates; this is called the Super Score.
- The SAT code for the CSU system is 3594. By reporting your scores to this code, all CSU campuses will get your scores.
- When you send your SAT scores to one UC, all UCs have access to your scores.
- UC's:
 1. Will take your best SAT "sitting."
 2. No longer require SAT Subject Tests for all applicants, but still recommend them and may require them for specific majors.
 3. If you'll be using your SAT/ACT score for the UC's be sure to take the SAT/ACT with Writing.
- Some private and selective colleges require up to 3 Subject Tests. Check the college websites directly for their test requirements.

The Essay or Personal Statement

Purpose of the essay or personal statement

- Bring life to the person behind the application.
- Showcase a student's talents, achievements, experiences and points of view in ways the rest of the application cannot.
- Provide a complete picture and fill in the gaps.
- Be considered for scholarships.

General writing tips

- Write a solid introduction; this makes the reader want to continue reading.
- In the case of a short essay (200 words or less) the answer should get to the point in the first sentences, supported by well-chosen examples and a well-focused conclusion.
- Use transitions to give your essay a logical flow.
- The bulk of your essay should clearly tell the reader who you are.
- Write a conclusion that impresses upon the reader your qualifications and ties your essay together.

Reminders

- Read all instructions carefully.
- Answer the prompt!
- “Anything” means one strategically chosen topic which highlights or explains what’s in the application itself.
- Avoid lists of accomplishments but focus on what these activities say about you.
- Start early (summer before senior year) and rewrite...write one draft and let it sit for a day.
- Have others review your work.
- Write in your own authentic voice.
- Be careful with humor.
- Do NOT manufacture hardship.
- Do NOT use big words to make your essay sound more impressive.

What are some things readers may be looking for?

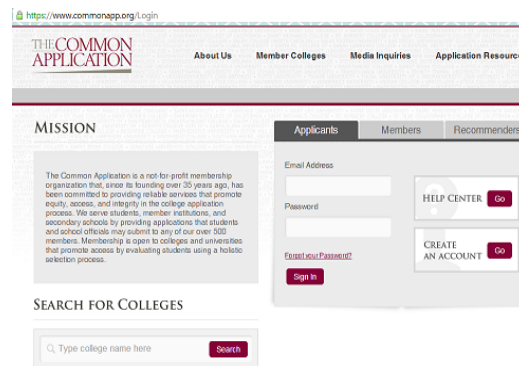

- Thoughtful reflection: some sense of who you are.
- Personal qualities that may include: leadership, initiative, openness to growth, persistence, commitment to others, maturity, motivation.
- Meaningful participation in activities.
- Students willing to go the extra mile to enrich their education.

The essay/personal statement should round out your application and is an important piece of the “comprehensive review” of your application.

Common App Essay Prompts from 2016-2017 application year

You will be asked to write an essay (approximately 250-650 words) on one of several broad options, including:

- Some students have a background or story that is so central to their identity that they believe their application would be incomplete without it. If this sounds like you, then please share your story.
- Recount an incident or time when you experienced failure. How did it affect you, and what lessons did you learn?
- Reflect on a time when you challenged a belief or idea. What prompted you to act? Would you make the same decision again?
- Describe a place or environment where you are perfectly content. What do you do or experience there, and why is it meaningful to you.
- Discuss an accomplishment or event, formal or informal, that marked your transition from childhood to adulthood within your culture, community, or family.

UC Personal Insight Questions

For the 2016-2017 application year

- You will have 8 questions to choose from. You must respond to only four of the eight questions.
- Each response is limited to a maximum of 350 words.

Which questions you choose to answer are entirely up to you: But you should select questions that are most relevant to your experience and that best reflect your individual circumstances.

All questions are equal: All are given equal consideration in the application process, which means there is no advantage to choosing certain questions over others.

The CommonApp essay and UC Personal Insight Questions prompts are accurate at the time of printing.

Please check CommonApp.org and UniversityofCalifornia.edu for updates.

Sample Essay—Tips Included!

What makes this a good essay?

October 12, 2015

Maryanne Wheeler
Personal Essay
St. Lawrence University

"Where the heck is it?" I asked aloud as I ripped through every drawer and closet. "Mom!" I screamed, as I pulled the rumpled, size 6-8 Cinderella dress from the overstuffed Hefty bag in the center of my floor. How could my mother callously have cast aside the dress that served as my cousin Bradley's trademark costume for my annual family Christmas production?

I pounded down the stairs and found my mother innocently making dinner. I put on my most terrifying eight-year-old face and held up the crinkled Disney creation. "Just what do you think Brad is gonna wear this year?" My mother would learn the extreme sentimental value of this dress and how it would serve to remind us of Bradley and our innocence.

Kindred spirits, both left-handed and white-haired and born only weeks apart, Brad and I spent every preschool day together in mutual adoration. After all, he had what appeared to be two belly buttons and his scars were much more impressive than mine. Thankfully, I did not understand the correlation between those holes and scars and his having been deprived of oxygen at birth due to a badly malformed heart, a birth defect that would severely impair his ability to learn. Brad and I, sporting plastic sunglasses, spent our early years cruising the yard in my pink Barbie Beach Buggy, from which I had diligently scraped the Barbie sticker to make it look less like an embarrassing "girlie" car. We romped around the house, ripping heads off dolls, sneaking sugary items, and whipping ourselves off the swings in an effort to land on the paved driveway. It is the laughter I remember when I think of these days, not Brad's disability.

My perception drastically altered when I entered fourth grade. "Hey, retard!" one boy shouted at recess as one of his henchmen chucked the ball at Brad's head. I was not sure what a retard was, but the sound of it made me wince. I launched myself at the ringleader, swinging and crying. I chased them off, the buttons hanging from my now-muddy jumper. I was baffled, and the pain I felt had nothing to do with my bleeding knees. I looked at Bradley and he was smiling at me, not understanding what had just happened, and I was grateful, and forever changed.

As we grew older, our paths diverged. Brad took the path that so many look on with pity as "slow" and "unfortunate." Initially, I felt guilty for growing up without him. As I write my essays for college and complain about the work involved in applications, I think about Brad, who gets pumped to take his permit test and fails every time, but will persevere. He will never fit the societal ideal of a "normal" person or a "successful" person and I abhor the elitist thinking that insists that my life must have more meaning than his. Watching him grow up has helped me to overcome what could have been my handicap. He is compassionate and determined in spite of thousands of setbacks. And when we all grumble about the burdens of life, I think of Brad and wonder, who is the happier person? He finds joy in things like putting aside money from his grocery store job to buy me a Christmas gift, or saving me all the red gummy bears. He does not lament how few friends he has, but is glad to be with the few who know and appreciate him. I do not feel lucky for being different than Brad. I feel lucky for knowing him. He has taught me that more intelligent does not equal better, and it certainly does not equal happier. What does mark the superior person is the nature of his heart and soul, and Brad's are pure and joyful and suffused with love.

"Scene two, take one." Bradley enters, surrounded by a chorus of characters consisting of my brother and cousins. He is wearing the tattered, size 6-8 Cinderella dress. "Kung Fu Fighting" comes on, and that's his cue. He throws himself into my meticulously choreographed dance, and when the song ends, executes his grand finale, standing on one slightly bent leg. And in the silence between the end of the song and the applause, you can hear the dress ripping a little more.

This essay wasn't just on time, it was submitted well before the Early Decision deadline. Meeting deadlines is crucial in the college application process, especially if you are applying Early Decision or Early Action.

The essay begins with a story that grabs the reader's attention. Make it interesting. Admission staff read hundreds and sometimes thousands of essays, so your essay needs to stand out.

Maryanne uses enough details and dialogue to paint a vivid picture. Because she has chosen very specific moments, she can make the scenes come to life without writing a novel.

She introduces Bradley's condition in a thoughtful, straightforward manner. His life and their experiences together are inspiring, so her story does not need to be exaggerated.

Maryanne is specific when she lists the reasons why she finds Bradley inspirational and what she has learned from him.

Her essay is about appreciating what you have, who you are, and what truly matters in life. Instead of saying that outright, she tells a story that illustrates her point. A memorable essay is more show than tell.

Maryanne ends her story where it began, with the Cinderella dress, bringing the essay full-circle.

This essay is also good because of everything that's not in there; it is free of misspellings, it is an appropriate length, and there are no run-on sentences or lengthy paragraphs.

Military Academies & ROTC

Securing an Appointment: You must be nominated by your Senator or Congressional Representative to be considered for all military academies except the Coast Guard. You should consider starting this process during the spring of junior year or summer before senior year. Plan to complete your application by the end of October, in order to be interviewed in November. You should be notified of nomination by February. The Academy will contact candidates for evaluation and extend the final offer of appointment by May 1.

Evaluations are based on the “whole person” concept and take into consideration your academic, leadership and physical abilities. Most academies and congressional offices require: official transcripts; SAT/ACT scores directly from the test agency; 3 letters of recommendation; a 500-word essay describing why you want to attend a service academy; your resume of activities, leadership positions held, academic and athletic awards; a copy of your birth certificate; and a small, recent photograph (optional). Each representative has their own nomination application and procedure. Visit the website(s) for details.

Submitting College Applications to Private Schools (Using Common App)

Your counselor will be submitting the school materials for your college applications electronically. There are a few quick steps you need to complete in order for you to be able to request transcripts, letters of recommendation and Secondary School Reports from your counselor.

Step 1: If Common App is an option, you should apply using the Common App.

- Create a Common App account at www.commonapp.org.
- Use your school email address for your Common App account registration and note your password.

Step 2: Fill out the Common App— you must complete the entire Education section and have at least one school added to your account before you may complete the FERPA.

Step 3: Add all the Common App schools to which you plan to apply to your Common App account.

Step 4: Sign the FERPA Release Authorization

- Click on “Assign Recommenders” in the My Colleges tab.
- Select the Release Authorization link
- Read through the instructions and check the box to continue
- Check the authorization box and select to either waive your right to review recommendations or not. Please note that it is highly suggested to waive your right to read the recommendations.
- Type in your signature and select the date—click SAVE
- You should now see a green check mark next to the FERPA Release Authorization

Step 5: Adding additional schools—you must see your counselor immediately

- If you add applications after submitting the hard copy form to your counselor, you must resubmit the College Document Request form.
- Nothing will be sent from your counselor unless you have notified your counselor in writing! Naviance does not notify us of additional changes.

The screenshot shows the Common App dashboard with the following elements:

- Navigation tabs: Dashboard, My Colleges (circled), Common App, College Search.
- Left sidebar: John Carroll University, Questions, Assign Recommenders (circled), Submission - Common App, University of Michigan.
- Main content area: Manage Recommenders link, FERPA Release Authorization (circled) with a yellow dot, Counselor section, and Offline Forms (School Report, Optional Report, Mid Year Report, Final Report).
- Right sidebar: Help Center, Recommender Information does not change, Who can be a recommender?, Resend.
